

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

“Resolutions not so submitted shall be acted upon at the same meeting at which presented only by unanimous consent, and after report thereon by the Executive Committee.”

This is printed at once in order that, in case it is adopted, members may have had as much notification as possible.

LOCAL CHAPTERS

Since the issue of the May BULLETIN, the following local chapters have been reported:

University of Colorado, M. F. Libby, Chairman;

University of North Dakota, A. J. Becker, Chairman;

University of Washington, E. S. Meaney, Chairman.

The following letter has been sent to chairmen of local chapters under date, September 23.

“I am asked by President Wigmore to inform you that, upon publication of the report of the Committee on Membership in the October BULLETIN, all applications heretofore withheld on account of uncertainty of the rules are to be forwarded to me, and that Chairmen of Chapters are invited to go over the lists of faculty members in each institution, with a view to presenting applications from persons whom they deem to be desirable as members. Such applications should, if practicable, reach me not later than December first for inclusion in the December BULLETIN and election at the annual meeting.

H. W. TYLER, Secretary.”